Walled Garden currently offers Standard or Premium memberships to the Private Garden and Walled Garden Services.

Walled Garden and Verizon have teamed up to provide a space that is safe, secure, and separate from the World Wide Web to provide a means of exchanging information. Walled Garden uses a combination of software, processes, and hardware – along with it’s human resources – to create a unique digital space for the efficient exchange of information. Content and services have been placed in the Garden by, us and are under our control, we act as a trusted intermediary, or third party. All content in the Garden is exclusively stored on our servers. We work with your community leaders to provide the resources and functionality that are important and necessary to you. These service likely work on the computers you already own.

Private Garden is a resource for business use. It is a safe and controlled environment with no access to the World Wide Web, Social Media, sports, games, news, gambling, or entertainment. Private Garden users are required to use our safe, secure, and separate email system with your custom privategarden.org address.

Walled Garden is a resource for business and personal use. It does not allow access to the World Wide Web, Social Media, sports, games, news, gambling, or entertainment. In addition to personal use, the Walled Garden, permits access to other email provider’s inboxes. Your email address with us will end with @mywalledgarden.com
